General Information

The Mississippi Archaeological Research Grant Program is designed to provide funding for archaeological research, archaeological data recovery, and laboratory testing (such as carbon 14 dating) to increase the knowledge of the prehistory and history of Mississippi through an archaeological perspective. The goal of this program is to provide the tools to perform intensive analysis of archaeological data and curated collections and the opportunity to publish findings by researchers who are otherwise limited by financial constraints.

Specifically, this grant program will provide funding to university archaeologists and archaeological graduate students for research projects within the State of Mississippi. At present, most archaeological surveys in Mississippi are performed to fulfill the requirements of Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966. The majority of this work consists of Phase I surveys (identifying and recording archaeological sites), and does little to enhance our knowledge of Mississippi's archaeological past. Only through controlled testing (Phase II) and excavation (Phase III) can more in-depth knowledge of prehistoric and historic archaeological data be obtained and analyzed. The publication of the research funded by this grant program is meant to answer and refine archaeological research questions in the State of Mississippi that are not addressed by Section 106 archaeology, as well as to update the Comprehensive Historic Preservation Plan. Therefore, this will have the dual effect of better focusing the research questions and aims of the Section 106 projects conducted within the state. The information will also help in making determinations of National Register eligibility for archaeological sites (Criterion D).

Since most in-depth archaeological research is performed by university archaeologists and graduate students, either on a volunteer basis or with very limited funding, producing the findings of research and making those findings available to a wider audience is often tediously slow. The Mississippi Archaeological Research Grant Program, which will assist researchers by providing funding for laboratory testing, research needs, and possibly some equipment, will enhance the understanding of Mississippi's archaeological past and ultimately provide a wealth of information that will better assist cultural resource efforts in determining National Register eligibility for archaeological sites.

Maximum funding for the program is $25,000. Individual requests for grant assistance may not exceed $10,000 per project. Grant awards will be paid to the grantee by the Department on a reimbursable basis upon successful completion of the project.

Applicants receiving grant awards should be prepared to cover all project costs prior to receiving reimbursement.

The information on the following pages describes the grant program more fully and explains the process for requesting grant funds. The regulations and guidelines set forth in this manual must be followed by all grant recipients. Please read the entire manual before completing the applications.

If you have questions please contact Pamela Edwards Lieb at 601-576-6940.

Incomplete or late applications will not be considered.

B. Project Personnel

The Project Coordinator represents the grant recipient in the administration of the project and is responsible for ensuring the progress and timely completion of all work on the project and for submitting progress and reimbursement requests to the Historic Preservation Division. The project coordinator is also the Historic Preservation Division's contact for all correspondence relating to the project. There are no academic or professional requirements for this position.

The Project Professional conducts or supervises the professional aspects of the grant project and is responsible for the quality of the final product. The project professional must meet the requirements listed as Principle Investigator in Guidelines for Archaeological Investigations and Reports in Mississippi and the Secretary of the Interior's Standards and Guidelines, Archaeology and Historic Preservation's "Professional Qualifications Standards" (Federal Register vol. 48, no. 190, 9-29-83, Part IV, pg. 44738-44739).

C. Funding Levels

Twenty-five thousand dollars is available for distribution as grant awards. No grant award will exceed $10,000.

In some cases, the Department may offer a grant of a smaller amount than was requested. The applicant will then be asked to decide whether or not to modify the proposed scope of work and accept the grant. If the applicant declines, the money will be redistributed to other qualified applicants by the Board of Trustees.

The Department of Archives and History reserves the right to reject grant applications that do not include an adequate project description, or that include project budgets not commensurate with the product(s) to be created or the amount of work to be done.

D. Reimbursement Requests

Mississippi Archaeological Research Grants are reimbursable grants. The grant recipient may receive payment only after providing appropriate documentation showing that project costs have been incurred.

Applicants receiving grant awards should be prepared to cover all project costs prior to receiving reimbursement from the Department of Archives and History.

Specific instructions on filing reimbursement requests will be supplied to grant recipients. No grant project may result in a net financial profit for the grantee. Any funds generated in the course of a grant project will be considered program income and must be applied toward the total project costs. This reduction of the total project cost will result in a corresponding reduction of the grant award. Applicants who think they may generate program income as a result of the proposed project should consult the Historic Preservation Division for advice before completing this application.

E. Publications

All research resulting from this grant project shall be submitted to the Mississippi Archaeology journal and/or MDAH's Archaeological Research Series for publication.
